From the Preacher's Desk

In my morning lesson this past Sunday, I began by quoting Albert Einstein on the subject of relativity. He wrote, "Time is relative; its only worth depends upon what we do as it is passing." Einstein, along with many other physicists and scientists, truly believed that time was an illusion. It's what we do with our time that can make it feel as if it were passing slowly or it's gone in the blink of an eye. It also doesn't help that we are in the midst of a technological explosion since recent research suggests that our perception of time is speeding up, thanks to the over-abundance of technology in our lives. What does it all mean? Simply put, do something fun and time will pass by more quickly than you want, do something you hate, and time will slow down and never seem to end.

We could spend all day discussing the topic of relativity and find ourselves just as confused as to when we started. That being said, perhaps Albert Einstein was right about time being affected by our enjoyment in the activity we are doing. That's the only explanation for how this past year working at the Angleton Church of Christ has gone by in the blink of an eye. I'll be honest, my "one-year-anniversary" came and went and I didn't even realize it. When someone reminded me that a year had passed it surprised me because it feels like I have only just begun. Looking back at this past year, I am proud of the work that we have accomplished here at Angleton, and look forward to the many years to come. However, that's not why I'm writing this article. I simply want to say "Thank you!"

This congregation, from the start, welcomed my family with open arms. You showered us with so much love that we were confident we had made the right decision to move back to Texas. When we think about our home, Catherine and I agree that Angleton is where we want to be, and where we want to raise our kids. Even more importantly, this congregation is where we want them to grow into faithful believers in God. I wish I could take the time to thank every person individually...thank you for helping us, for accepting us, for loving us, for trusting us, and for supporting us in our work at this congregation. I am excited about what the future holds, for my family and this church body, as I hope you are as well. Time does fly by when you are having fun. This past year flew by because I have enjoyed every second of it as your preacher. So from the Olmos family to yours... God bless and thank you from the bottom of our hearts! David Olmos

Angleton Church of Christ - Young Adults Class - Sunday Bible Study

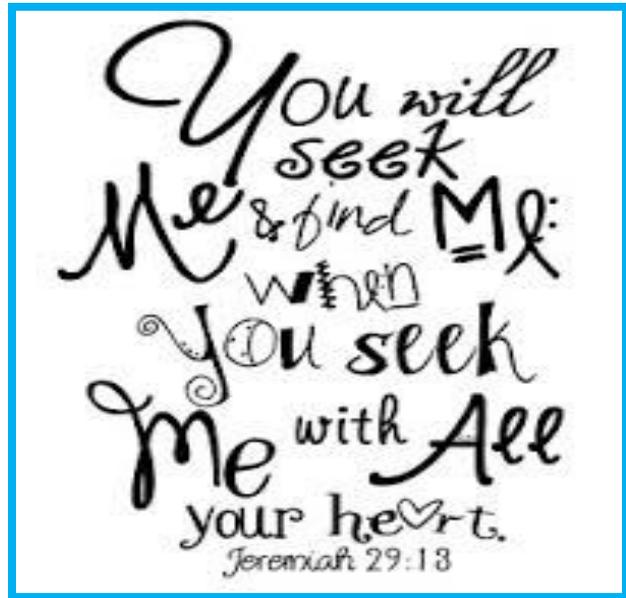

Registration is now open for Camp Hensel! You can find the application at <https://forms.gle/Yy1HvBuiZZD8wABd8>. A form must be submitted for each camper, adult/college, and pre-camper attending. Registration will end on Sunday, March 29th. If you have any questions or any problems with the website please let me know; I'll be more than happy to go through the registration process with you! I will be collecting your registration fees. Despite facility costs rising, we have kept the registration fee for campers at $55; we want this weekend to remain accessible for all, because we know how absolutely impactful it can be for everyone who gets to experience it. Even still we know that it can be burdensome for some, and we are not going to let money stand in the way of someone being able to be blessed by this amazing weekend. If you have any questions regarding camp cost, please don't hesitate to talk to me. And if you would like to help sponsor any of our youth, please see me.

Camp Bandina forms are available in the foyer. If you have any questions, please see Curtis Sanford or myself.
