"Spring Break" - David Olmos

This week is "Spring Break" which means most of our kids are out of school. Our youngest in the congregation, are spending this week with family and friends, taking advantage of the pause in learning to get stuff done and have fun. As for our older kids, some are headed up to Nacogdoches, Texas for a short Youth Group trip, while others have chosen to stay behind and work. Regardless of what is done this week, it's just nice to be given a break from our regular routines.

A lot of people use this week, and this time of the year, to examine their homes and shed the unnecessary and unwanted stuff that's been collecting dust. As a child, I loathed "Spring Cleaning" because it took me away from going on adventures outside with my friends. As an adult, I LOVE when I get a break in the week, and I have time to get my "chores" done at home. It never fails; the moment I get one thing done, three more suddenly get added to the list. However, I don't mind the work because I look forward to what it looks like when it's all done.

Hard work now, for joy later, is a Biblical concept found throughout the scriptures, but one that was heavily mentioned by Paul, especially in his letter to the city of Colossae. Colossians 3:23-24, "Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ."

So, if you find yourself this Spring Break being forced to work, or you are excited to work, don't focus on what it looks like now, but on how happy you will be when it's all done. It's the same attitude I have when it comes to my life on this earth. Every day brings new challenges and more work and sometimes it can be so overwhelming you think about quitting. Just keep focused on the end goal, the light at the end of the tunnel, and the reward that goes to those who run their race!

I am planning on cleaning out my garage this week with the help of our girls. LOOK I am looking forward to when it's all clean so we can utilize the space better. And I know what you're thinking...what do you expect me to do with all the stuff I want to get rid of? Donate it! Donate it to Impact, to someone in need, or to our upcoming free garage sale! So, whether your "spring break" is just a break, a time to rest, or a week of work, I hope you and your family have a wonderful time together. I know the Olmos family is looking forward to spending time together, regardless of what we do! God Bless!

Let each of you look not only to his own interests, but also to the interests of others.

Youth News

FROM MICHAEL

The youth and Michael left today for a retreat in East Texas. Please keep them in your prayers as they travel. They will return Thursday.

We will have a JAM (Jesus and Me) for our 2nd through 5th graders on Sunday, March 19, directly following morning services. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Sunday, March 19, will be the LAST day to register for the Easter retreat at Hensel Christian Youth Camp. To sign up, please follow the link: <https://forms.gle/Qm5U6rMh5tSFaQsk7>

If you would like to help sponsor one of our students or volunteers to go to Camp Hensel, please talk to me. The cost is $70 for students and $55 for adult volunteers— we would hate for money to be the reason someone had to miss out on experiencing God's Word more fully. Thank you for your continued support of our youth, we

SYMPATHY

Then Jesus spoke to them again, saying,

"I am the light of the world. He who follows Me shall not walk in darkness, but have the light of life."
